CITY LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP CAPTURED BY MCGILL TEAM

M.A.A.A. Team Unable to Score Against Amaron-Manson-Crain Defence—Little, Mendelsohn and Turpel All Played at Top Form—Game is Battle of Fast Combination Work Against Slow, Long Passing—Final Score Was 29-23.

With daring, accurate and perfect combination work, hard, clean-cut checking, beautiful, deadly shooting, and setting a terrific pace, the Red and White basketball machine, holders of the Intercollegiate championship, broke down the M.A.A.A. defence on the Peel St. floor, and came through with a 29 to 23 victory which brought with it the city title. From the start of the game the McGill team battled their way to a win by playing a fast, short passing game against the slow moving, long passing which the M.A.A.A. team used. Although the Blue and Red never had the lead in the score during the game, time after time they made desperate efforts to pile in the baskets, and it was only an unfortunate luck that on numerous occasions prevented the ball from passing through the iron rings. In the first few minutes of play the Peel Street team missed almost twice as many shots as the college team attempted. The players, who on Wednesday night thrilled the crowd with their long accurate shots, failed miserably to score on their own court. McGill, on the other hand, took but few shots, and the majority of these were effective. With a string of nineteen games behind them, the Red and White players showed the effects of experience and training.

Errol Amaron and his partner, Crain, gave an exhibition of endurance and playing that was without peer of any work seen on local floors in some time. Both men covered their positions, and time after time, when the Red and White forward line was covered, this pair of husky guards went up the floor and working some clever combination work would take a shot and were back on the defence long before the Blue and Red were able to get the ball down to the unguarded forwards. Turpel, Mendelsohn and Little on the forward line, put up a wonderful scrap. The Peel Street defence knew only too well the deadly shooting of Mendelsohn and it was only once in a great while that the scoring forward had an opportunity to tally. Turpel, who was on during the first period, showed the fighting spirit that has given him a place on the team. Repeatedly he broke up the opposition's play before they were able to get loose any of their passing. Covered as he was by the stellar defence, he did not get many chances to score. Captain "Art" Manson, the giant centre, got the jump every time, and a feature of the game was the fact that McGill started off from centre floor always with the ball in their possession. As usual, Manson was back in the defence and up with the forwards whenever he was needed. He fooled the opposition on many occasions with his fake shots, fake passes and overhead dribble. Without doubt this player ranks first among the basketball men seen in action in Montreal this season. Philpott and Hilton both were in the game for a short time, and both played good senior basketball. Hilton, despite the fact that in the past few weeks he has had little opportunity to handle the ball, went onto the floor and played an important part in the combination and team work of the Red and White squad. Philpott played a fast game and although he attempted no shots he assisted in the last few tallies.

The M.A.A.A. team were not playing their usual game. They were off on their shooting and in the last period they handed the McGill defence players pass after pass when they hurried the sphere on long shots down the floor. In the free throw department, much to the surprise of the huge crowd of spectators, Mendelsohn, of McGill, did far better work than the sure shots of the M.A.A.A. team.

Mr. Drysdale refereed and handled the game in a clean cut manner, which was the equal of the work seen in the Intercollegiate games. Mr. Corriveau was the umpire and always alert, allowed neither team to get away with the least infraction of the rules.

The Peel Street team played a long passing, deliberate type of play, which fooled the college team on Wednesday, as they had never met it before, but Saturday night it was a different story. The McGill team knew what to do, and they were able to keep a man covered the minute he was with scoring range. As a result the M.A.A.A. team fell back and took a lot of long shots, which missed the mark. They had bad luck on some of the shooting, but the distance attempted was too great. Groneau was able to send in four neat tries from the floor, but his team mates were weak.

to send in a bit over half of the free tries that they missed they might have won, for the three men that shot the fouls got but 5 out of 16, while Mendelsohn sent 9 out of 16 into the ring. The Blue and Red, however, put up a

REPORTERS AND EDITORS CALLED

Annual "Daily" Dinner on Thursday Night

Members of the McGill Daily staff are to hold their annual dinner in the Union on Thursday evening next. Every member of the staff is urged to be present at this yearly affair, which, while assuming the form of a dinner, has for its purpose the announcement of the re-arrangements of the staff for the ensuing year and the awarding of pins for services rendered during the present. In addition to this, it is a very enjoyable occasion, as anyone who attended the banquet of last year will agree. A downtown speaker in all probability will be invited for the benefit of the college journalists of the University.

Thursday will be the last time at which the members of the "Daily" will be able to gather as a body. To any who have enjoyed their work on the paper, who have formed associations with their fellow reporters, who have come to recognize the "Daily" not merely as a "news-sheet" but also as a body of men interested in, and striving for, the same end, this appeal will not be lost—and these are many. So it is expected that every reporter, every night editor, will be on hand next Thursday evening in the Union.

TOMORROW NIGHT

Other Matters Will Also Be Given Consideration

Following the custom in vogue for the past few years, namely, that of allowing the candidates for the various college executive offices to appear before the students at some informal gathering, and lay before them their platforms, there will be held a smoker to-morrow night in the Union.

On this occasion the men whose names have within the past few days enjoyed an unusual amount of publicity, will address the students.

The gathering will not, however, concern itself solely with the above item, but will also discuss the amendment to the Constitution of the Students' Society, having reference to the Athletic Governing Board.

Consideration will also be given to important matters pertaining to the Theatre Night, which is now not far distant.

There will be musical entertainment furnished throughout the course of the evening, by the Mandolin Club, and others.

MEDICALS AND DENTALS TO HEAR DR. HATCHER

At eight o'clock to-night, the Pharmacy and Medical students will have an opportunity to hear Dr. Hatcher talk on the Pharmacy of two thousand years ago. The meeting will be held in the Assembly Hall of the New Medical Building and is to start at eight o'clock. "Crude Drugs" will be the subject of the general meeting, with special reference to the knowledge had of them in the old days.

It should be of great interest to the students who are studying the results of the years of development in this subject to hear an authority talk on the state of the study so many years ago. All the Medical and Dental students are invited to the meeting and should spend a most interesting evening.

BIG MIDNIGHT RAID.—LARGE MOB CAUGHT

Peaceful Sleepers Deluged With Water

C.O.T.C. TRIP

Three Severely Dealt with by Mock Court Martial

Sending down streams of water into the C.O.T.C. sleeping quarters at Macdonald College, shortly after Saturday midnight the Aggies made a fierce attack on the McGill boys. In all there were about eighty Macs to fifty odd McGill officers. There was a stiff fight, during the course of which several Macmen were taken prisoner and summarily dealt with by Musketry Sergeant Delcclier. The gymnasium was flooded, and all except one officer were thoroughly drenched.

On Sunday afternoon three men appeared on parade improperly dressed. It seemed that a certain Company Sgt.-Major had noticed Bolshevik-like locks on three privates. A court-martial was ordered. The law governing the case was read by a senior N.C.O., from a military like tone. The verdict being given, the men were forced to undergo a major tonsorial operation.

Leaving Montreal early Saturday afternoon, and returning Sunday night, the McGill C.O.T.C. spent a very enjoyable weekend at Ste. Annes.

Saturday afternoon was spent in military manoeuvres. A party was sent out to guard a bridge until 4.30 p.m., and hold up any body advancing against this bridge. The defending party got into position before the attackers had a chance to attack, and held their position. The attackers were superior in number, and their men were more mobile, being on snowshoes and skis.

Saturday evening, the men enjoying the hospitality of the College, spent several happy hours on the dancing floor. During the course of the night, the students in the men's residence, outnumbering the McGill men, almost two to one, made a violent attack on the exposed flank of the O. T. C. The Aggies were at length repulsed after heavy injuries had been inflicted on them.

On Sunday morning a rear guard action was attempted. The rear guard was given two positions to hold. One of these was then to retire by a detour which it succeeded in doing. The other managed to draw off half the main body of the attackers.

On Sunday afternoon two large forces were sent forward on two parallel roads. As soon as the vanguards of opposite sides clashed, they were to seize the most commanding position. The clash took place in a village and several farm buildings were seized.

The umpires went over the ground, and decided who were out of action. It was then agreed that the advance guard nearest Macdonald College should fall back to a safe position. After an exchange of fire the operations ceased.

Sunday evening, the Contingent held a church parade. During the course of their stay, the men were the guests of Macdonald College, the authorities of which treated their guests most hospitably.

HISTORICAL CLUB MEETING TUESDAY

Papers to Be Read on Jugo-Slavia and Albania

Before ceasing their activity for the 1922-23 session, the Historical Club members will assemble once more in the reading room of the Strathcona Hall on Tuesday night. Two papers will be read, one on Jugo-Slavia by A. R. Stone, the other on Albania by A. O. Loyd. As a means of bringing the students who are interested in history into close contact with their professors the Club has offered decided advantages. Since the beginning of the session ten papers have been read at meetings, all of which were attended by one or more members of the history department, who lent valuable aid in clearing up points where doubt might arise on the subject under discussion.

The papers to be read on Tuesday night next, will deal with the history of two countries which have come into existence since the League of Nations was formed. Jugo-Slavia and Albania are not generally well known because of this fact. For this reason the papers by Stone and Loyd should be very instructive.

YOUR CAREER

A successful career may be summed up as being the right equipoise between the responsibilities assumed and the power to support them.

WHAT DO WE OWE?

We, who are still in the student stage of our existence, little realize how much we shall owe to our Alma Mater after we have passed out of her gates for the last time—after we have left behind our college days forever and have gone on to another stage of life. Our vision is blurred as yet because we are too near to see clearly and appreciate but when, in the years to come, we look back on that portion of our days which was given over to our college careers, then will our eyes be opened and it will dawn on us that we owe much more to McGill than we can ever repay.

To the Freshmen this opening paragraph may seem to be nothing but twaddle and idle words, but the Senior who stops to think cannot fail to perceive the differences in his life, which have been brought about by four or five years in McGill. But what, some may ask, are these differences? The question, to answer in full would be a difficult one, but even we, who are yet too close to have a clear vision, can answer in part at least. By the time a student has reached his graduating year, he has acquired at least some of the advantages of a higher education. He has seen great things; he has heard great facts; he has demonstrated the latest developments in the worlds of science, medicine and business. He has, moreover, made the true friendship of some of the great masters of the past and has at least a bowing acquaintance with several others. In other words, he has greatly increased his relations in the worlds of books and facts and that, in itself, is a wonderfully fine thing.

But that is not all, for by the time of graduation, a student finds himself bound eternally by the ties of great friendships, which have sprung into existence during his college course. He also has met people he would not otherwise have met and has had the privilege of listening to noted sages and wise men, who lend their glow to the student world.

And so it is that these facts, and others omitted, combine together and give, as a rule at least, a broader viewpoint, a truer culture, and a sounder basis for life to those who are privileged to attend a university. To those, seniors especially, who are in doubt about this, all we can say is: "Look at yourselves now and four years ago and see the difference. If you cannot find any improvement, Heaven help you."

So let us remember that we should do all in our power to pay back at least part of the debt we owe. Let us never, by word or by deed, cast evil reflections upon McGill, for the public judge a university by the actions—the achievements and the failures—of its students and graduates. Let us remember at all times to be loyal to our Alma Mater—to old McGill.

IMPROMPTU SPEAKING

To be able to speak well is an unquestioned talent. To be able to speak extemporaneously, with precision and force, requiring, as it does, a ready wit and a general knowledge, is an equally desirable accomplishment. Tonight in the Union the foremost speakers of McGill will contend for honours in the Impromptu Speaking Contest being conducted by the Lit., and their versions of the questions, as well as their presentations of those interpretations, will be decidedly worth listening to. The subjects selected for impromptu discussion are such as should be familiar to the college student, requiring no detailed study, no particular research, yet demanding from the contestant that in order to give his allotment proper treatment he be versed in news of current happenings and that his opinions upon the matters relevant to everyday existence be in some state of definite formation.

There has at odd times been mentioned certain criticism of the Literary and Debating Society. That this has been justified in part there can be no doubt, but that this year the Lit. has come to assume a more important role in the life of the University, that it has widened its field, that it has enhanced the prospects for the future, we believe, can not be readily contradicted. Just such affairs as that in contemplation for this evening serve to demonstrate the fact that the influence of the Lit. has extended to almost every faculty of the college, when it is noted that there are entrants for the contest from Arts, Commerce, Law, Medicine and Dentistry. The Lit. and the men competing have performed their part of this duty; it remains for the undergraduate body to show appreciation of such efforts by a whole-hearted reception this evening.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The platforms appearing in today's issue of the "Daily", for the while evidencing the difficulty of preparation in enunciating a definite policy, show, for the most part, efforts on the part of the candidate to place a concise proposition before the undergraduates. This endeavour is demonstrated by the inclusion of criticism, where it is present, in its constructive sense. Such is always pertinent, and its relevancy is an indication of the thoughtful type of man running for office.

Members of the McGill Senior Basketball Team have concluded a very successful season. McGill is proud of their achievements in the Intercollegiate League and in the City Championships. They have always proved worthy representatives of their Alma Mater.

The Straight Line

WHEN a railroad is constructed from one town to another engineers strive to make the line as straight as possible.

Because a straight route is shortest, quickest and least costly.

Business furnishes a parallel case—the line between the man who makes something and the man who wants something.

Advertising provides a short cut between the manufacturer and you. Advertisements make it possible to tell you in a few minutes all you want to know about the services or articles you need.

A glance through this paper enables you to sift out the things that interest you, and in a moment you know just where and when to go for what you want.

Figure how many steps, how much needless walking and talking the advertisements save you and your neighbors. Then you will realize the great economy of advertising.

Advertising plays a necessary part in your life. Read it.

CANDIDATES' PLATFORMS

The following are the platforms of the candidates for the various offices, which are to be contested for on Wednesday, in the student elections. Campus gossip is full of the candidates' prospects and great interest is being shown in the political fights.

FOR PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL

Errol Amaron

Born in Montreal; present home in British Columbia. Educated at Quebec High School and St. Andrew's College. Served four years in Canadian Army with rank of R.M.S.

College Activities.—Twice President of Arts '23; twice President of Old Scouts Club; president of S.C.A., Cercle Français and Arts Undergrad.

Athletics.—Intermediate and senior football teams; intermediate and senior basketball teams; track team; class hockey and indoor baseball; soccer and gymnastics.

Mock Parliament.—Held several offices in Mock Parliament.

Dramatics.—Took part in French plays for three years.

Music.—Played in McGill Students' Orchestra and was assistant manager for one year.

To the Student Body of McGill:

It was with a certain amount of hesitation that I allowed my name to be presented to you as a candidate for the position of President of the Students' Council.

Now that the step has been taken, however, I am prepared to give whatever intelligence, strength and experience I may have to the duties that might be imposed upon the chief executive of the student body. I nevertheless have no promises to make. Certain spheres of college life which I feel should be emphasized have been briefly outlined in my platform.

ERROL C. AMARON.

PLATFORM.—1. A closer supervision of the expenditure of the students' money.

2. Development of better rooting both for games and social activities.

3. Forming a closer bond between graduates, the faculty and the student body (being strongly in favor of the newly organized athletic board).

4. The encouragement of a greater usage of the Union for college functions.

5. Greater encouragement of minor sports and of junior teams.

6. The development of more interest in dramatics, music and debating.

7. The application of all possible pressure on the authorities for the construction of a gymnasium and for the refitting of the Arts Building.

8. The encouragement of more inter-collegiate contests with both Canadian and American universities.

9. Create an interest in McGill by sending representatives to various school centres, either athletic teams, musical societies or other such organizations.

J. G. Quackenbush

Born in Buffalo, N.Y., January 7, 1893; British subject.

Preliminary education: Ontario rural and Ottawa public schools; Ottawa Collegiate Institute, Ontario Normal School, Ottawa, Ont.

Experience previous to entrance to McGill, 1919: President Students' Society, O.N.S.; school teacher, Federal Civil Servant Department of Public Works and Department of Militia of Defence; commercial traveller; soldier—enlisted 1915, Infantry; commission agent, purchasing agent.

Athletic experience: Senior Football, O.R.F.U.; Senior Basketball, Intermediate O.H.A. Hockey.

Record at McGill: 1919-20, Class basketball and hockey, manager and player; Interfaculty Rugby; McGill Orchestra. 1920-21: Class vice-president; member of Union House Committee; class basketball. 1921-22: Secretary Union House Committee; manager of Intermediate hockey team. 1922-23: Manager Senior Hockey team and secretary of Hockey and Skating Club; class basketball.

My promise to the students at large is that my energy will be directed to their service to the best of my ability if elected President of the Students' Society. In support of this statement stands a few minor positions with which I have been honoured in the past.

The past year has seen post-war conditions at McGill reach perhaps the extreme limit. We have fortunately reached something of greater importance for the purposes of reconstruction and that is a knowledge of these conditions. Criticism has been directed at various phases of activity throughout the year and that it was not all destructive is shown by the change in athletic control.

Formation of an athletic board will alter duties and jurisdiction of the Council in two respects. The most difficult task is that of a reorganization of a Constitution. My aim in such an effort would be to retain those features which have proved serviceable but also to increase the membership of the Council by one or by two members.

This increase would permit of representation directly from such organizations as Canadian Club, Literary and Debating Society, Dramatic Club when formed, Musical Organizations. Though supposed to be a part of bona fide college endeavour they may now be termed unrepresented activities because, orphan-like, they shift for themselves to indifferent success at best.

Musical organizations should receive more adequate recognition and support. My aim would be to give them a status similar to that occupied by the Athletic Association in the old organization. If possible a musical director might be appointed to educate and direct Glee Club, Orchestra, Mandolin Club and Band. Public opinion of our efforts of this character would depend on their showing and even though one year's effort might produce little, a foundation for future progress could be made.

Many details regarding the Athletic Board have yet to be thought out and that they are receiving good attention is gratifying. The only voice which the Council will have must be emphatic and representative in order that our share in the new departure will be worthy. My hope and intention would be to adequately assist and to ensure adequate consideration of the student viewpoint. Space alone limits enumeration of our needs but a rink and the proposed gymnasium rank high among them.

Removal of the athletic load from the Council would permit of more time for consideration of University interest. The Daily and Students' Union may both be improved. Our Daily should mean a little more in expression of campus ideas and after weathering the storm of last year it promises to be a self-supporting part of our affairs. Our Union should receive its share of attention in any reorganization. The original endowment or interest therefrom has not been increased—since its inception though maintenance costs of all buildings of public character have increased tremendously. It can be made more than a billiard room and dining hall if restored.

A crying need at McGill is an extensive attempt to bring students closer to the members of the staff. Efforts in this direction are made at various social functions and by various social functions and by various clubs. That it is insufficient is apparent each year and it is my conviction that if students manifest the desire in tangible manner the staff are willing and even anxious to assist.

Careful supervision of expenditure for the coming year must occur, in those affairs which necessitate disbursements from student funds. No increase of the Universal Fee should occur nor should any proposed activity remaining under control of the Council be permitted to jeopardize finances until experience shows their wisdom.

Activity such as that shown by a McGill Theatre Night should again be endorsed and when college reopens the freshmen should be safely, sanely and satisfactorily initiated.

Yours in anticipation,

J. GORDON QUACKENBUSH.

PLATFORM

Fellow Students of McGill:

Having accepted nomination as candidate for the Presidency of the Students Council, I have pleasure in placing before you a few points of policy, which, if honored by your support in the forthcoming elections, it will be my earnest endeavor to carry out:

1. Athletics.—Realizing the need of complete co-operation between faculty, graduates and students in support of athletics, I am in favor of the Athletic Governing Board, which, as at present amended, retains student control over their own affairs. It is my conviction that, with the active support and advice of faculty and graduates thus obtained, athletic activities will be stimulated and extended on a sound financial basis. I also heartily endorse the plan of obtaining graduate coaches to assist in athletic training, with special attention to the junior teams.

2. Finances.—Strict economy in the control of student affairs. I favor the presentation of a financial budget, early in October, stating estimated revenues and expenditures for the ensuing year. This would inform the student body on financial matters, and would thus avoid the present difficulty of asking the society at the close of the year to pass a financial report covering money already spent.

3. University Book Store.—The present exorbitant price of textbooks is an unnecessary burden on the student. I favor the establishment of a University Book Store in co-operation with the University authorities, where textbooks could be purchased practically at cost.

4. Information re Student Affairs.—Believing that the only way to ensure the interest of the students in their affairs is to tell them what is going on, I would further extend the excellent work of the present administration in this direction by:

1st.—Having full reports in the Daily of the meetings of the Council.

2nd.—Holding frequent open meetings of the Council.

3rd.—Publishing several days in advance the agenda of business to be brought before any meeting of the Students' Society, together with full explanations where necessary.

5. Official Recognition of Executive Work.—At the present time, we recognize officially success in athletics by granting various grades of "M's". But the man who spends an equal amount of time, energy and ability in the other important branches of our activities, e.g., the Daily, is given no recognition for his services. I favor the adoption of a graded system of official badges or rings (in no way to conflict with the "M's"), to be granted to those who attain executive posts, such as editors of the Daily, managers of teams, etc.

6. Gymnasium.—As the building of a gymnasium has been temporarily postponed, the question of its location should again be raised. It is my conviction that the logical site of the gymnasium is, according to the original plan, beside the Stadium—the centre of athletic activity. With the erection of student dormitories, it is still more imperative that the gym should be close at hand, if it is to be of most service to the student body.

7. College Spirit.—There is good college spirit at McGill right now. I think, however, that the spirit could be brought out and increased by the holding of more smokers, especially at the first of the year. These smokers would give the student body an opportunity of hearing our various musical organizations, the captains of teams, coaches, etc., and thus would develop an enthusiastic spirit, and interest in activities.

Trusting that the above points may meet with your consideration and approval, I am,

Yours sincerely,

C. J. TIDMARSH.

FOR PRESIDENT OF THE UNION

Sydney L. (Syd) Harris

Born Ottawa, Ont. High school education taken at Ottawa University and Ottawa Collegiate Institute, 1914-1919. Entered McGill in 1919 with the class of Medicine '25.

College Activities.—Freshman-Sophomore Dinner Committee, 1919; Class President, 1920-21; Medical Dinner and Dance Committee, 1921-22; Class and Faculty Hockey; Junior Football Team, 1921; captain, Intermediate Football Team, 1922; secretary of the Union House Committee, 1922-23.

Platform.—If honored with the position of President of the Union, my first and foremost aim will be to make the Union mean more to the average undergraduate. This can only be accomplished by so operating it as to make it a vital part of every form of college life, social, athletic, executive and intellectual.

This year, the programme of Union Dances was carried through very successfully, with the exception of the Union House Formal, which it was found necessary to cancel due to lack of undergraduate support. As a suggestion for next year it might be well to hold this function earlier in the season, which will doubtless prove a more opportune time, while the Junior Prom, which is always well attended by the Junior years, could be held shortly after Christmas.

The Union Dances are an institution at McGill, and all that remains for the House Committee to do is to see that they are kept up to their previous high standard. They hold a definite place in college life, and it would not be my purpose to supplant them in any way. I do suggest, however, that more functions of an informal nature, such as smokers, concerts, luncheons, and the like, be initiated on the Union programme for the year, so that the students would have a better medium for social intercourse.

In regard to athletics, close co-operation between the Athletic Governing Board, the graduate manager, the Students' Council and the House Committee is necessary if we are to derive all the possible benefits from the new system. The President of the Union, being a member of the Council, is naturally the link between the other executives and the House Committee. If elected to this office, I will make use of the experience gained this year during my tenure of office as secretary to try to carry out the duties in an efficient and trustworthy manner.

SYDNEY L. HARRIS.

James M. Packham, Commerce '24

Born Brampton, Ont., 1901.

Received early education at public and high schools of Brampton. One year at the University of Toronto and short time at R.M.C. One year's business experience before entering McGill. Came to McGill in October, 1921.

University Activities.—President of Freshman year; executive of Commercial Society 1921-1922; editor-in-chief of 1924 Annual.

If the student body sees fit to give me their consideration and support in the coming elections I promise to serve the students of McGill to the best of my ability.

The following are a few suggestions which I believe would improve the already good service rendered to the students by the Union:

1. That economy be exercised in all affairs pertaining to the Union and that every effort be made to increase the worth of the "Tuck Shop".

2. That a definite schedule of events be drawn up directly after the commencement of college activities.

3. That this schedule be published in the "Daily" and posted in all university buildings in order to facilitate the securing of rooms for club meetings at the Union.

4. That a silence room be provided in the Union Library for reading and studying.

5. That all other activities at the Union cease during the holding of Students' Society meetings.

6. That the serving of special luncheons be promoted at the Union for the benefit of clubs and societies.

I take this opportunity of thanking those who are already supporting me, especially those who have extended their support by signing my nomination sheet.

JAMES M. PACKHAM.

G. Beverly Puddicombe

Born Ottawa, 1898; Ottawa Collegiate Institute; two years, C.E.A.; entered McGill 1919 in Faculty of Arts, continuing in Faculty of Law.

Activities.—Junior football, two years; Intermediate football, one year; manager of Class Hockey League 1922-23; president Arts '23, 1922-23; Union House Committee 1921-22.

Platform.—If elected as president, I would endeavour to revive the old Union Smokers. From time to time opportunities are afforded for increasing the services rendered the students by the Union; for instance, in the past the establishment and enlargement of the Tuck Shop; and of these I would endeavour to take full advantage.

The present executive has accommodated minor clubs, etc., in the matter of meeting rooms, diners and smokers and this policy I shall try to continue.

In conclusion, if elected I shall try to the best of my ability to keep up the standard of efficiency in the management of the Union set in the past.

G. BEVERLY PUDDICOMBE.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT OF UNION

W. B. Brewer

Activities.—Vice-president Com. '23, 1920-22. Treasurer and secretary Commercial Society 1922-23. Treasurer Arts Undergraduate Society 1921-22. Vice-president McGill Canadian Club 1922-23. President Ontario Club 1921-22. Vice-president B.W. & F., 1921-22. President B.W. & F., 1922-23. Vice-president Athletic Association 1922-23. Intermediate Hockey, 1920-21. Senior and Intermediate Hockey 1922-23. Intercollegiate boxer 1920-23.

To the Students of McGill:

It is very difficult for a candidate for election to the Vice-Presidency of the Union House Committee to enunciate a definite platform. If you do me the honour of electing me I shall put forth every effort to fulfill the duties of the office in such a manner that the Union will continue to fill its present position as the social centre of the University.

W. B. BREWER.

R. W. N. Burroughs, Sci. '24

Prep. Schools, Smith's Falls Collegiate Institute and Soldiers' Matric Class. Overseas, 1916-1919.

College Activities.—Manager of the Interclass and Interfaculty champion hockey teams 1923; photograph editor of the 1924 Annual Board.

Platform.—If I am elected to the Vice-Presidency of the Union I will devote my time to the furthering of the student interests in the Union.

I desire not to be merely a representative in name of the study body but a representative of every student in the University. I want them to forward their ideas and I will do everything in my power to carry them out so that the Union will be just what they desire and will be their particular interest as well as that of the committee.

I am in favour of the "informal" dances and will make the necessary arrangements to overcome the difficulties and time lost in finding your partner by novel meeting plans and programmes suitably made out.

R. W. N. BURROUGHS.

"Bones" L. P. Little

Born Ottawa, Ont. Prep. school, Ottawa Collegiate Inst.; Faculty, Med. '25.

Activities.—Class president 1919-20; president McGill Basketball Club, 1921-22; president Intercollegiate Basketball Union 1921-22; manager Interclass Hockey 1922-23; manager Interclass Baseball 1922-23; Senior Basketball 1919-23 (capt. 1920-21); Senior Football 1920-23.

To the undergraduates of McGill University.—In response to the requests of representative undergraduates of McGill, I have agreed to stand as a candidate for the vice-presidency of the McGill Union.

With a first-hand knowledge of matters pertaining to the Union, gained through four years' active patronage of Union affairs, I place myself on record as supporting the following policy, which it will be my honour to carry into effect to the best of my ability.

An increase in the number of Union Smokers, Afternoon Tea Concerts and Sunday Musicals; also the staging of the Union Formal Dance in the autumn without working to the detriment of the Junior Prom. A broader system of allocating rooms in the Union for club smokers and meetings.

Increased telephone accommodation.

Increased seating accommodation.

A cleaner and more speedy system of handling dishes, etc., in the cafeteria.

The keeping of the billiard room equipment in a better state of repair.

FOR SECRETARY OF THE UNION

Kenneth M. Kent, Science '24

Educated, Montreal High School, 1916. Overseas Service, 6th Battery, Canadian Field Artillery.

In accepting nomination for the position of secretary of the Union House Committee I have given due consideration to the responsibilities which would be imposed upon me should I be elected and at the same time am willing to promise my supporters that I would give these responsibilities my undivided attention.

I feel greatly honoured by the expression of confidence in my ability as manifested by those who have signed my nomination, and with them feel that the McGill Union must be made an even greater centre of college activity. To this end I would devote my entire efforts.

ENCOURAGING NEWS RE THEATRE NIGHT

Tickets Are Being Disposed of Rapidly

Reports on the sale of tickets for the Theatre Night performance are highly encouraging, two-thirds having already been sold. Quite a number were disposed of to members of the Faculty and graduates, who are evincing as keen an interest in the production as the students themselves.

In view of the rapidity with which the tickets are being disposed of, students who have not yet bought them would be well advised to do so without further delay, in order to obviate any possibility of their not being able to procure any later on.

The Medicine players held a rehearsal Saturday afternoon, and showed a decided improvement.

The Faculty of Law will rehearse their act to-morrow night at 7 p.m., and it is imperative that the entire cast be present as the producer of the play will be on hand.

ANOTHER STUDENT IS TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Many students will no doubt be surprised to learn that F. M. Brown, Med. '24, was suddenly taken ill on Saturday night and rushed to the General Hospital where he was operated upon at midnight for appendicitis, by Dr. Bazin. He is progressing favorably and hopes to be up and able to resume his studies in a very short time.

common meeting ground for every McGill student, no matter what may be his faculty, year, creed, nationality or his likes and dislikes. I therefore believe that the Union House Committee should cater to every type and temperament in such a way that every last McGill man will find that there is at least one very appealing or very necessary thing to be had at the Union which cannot be obtained anywhere else. This would mean that within the course of a very few days every McGill man would have been in the Union, banging elbows and swapping ideas with scores of splendid chaps with whom he might never otherwise come in contact. This principle, to my mind, is the ideal solution to the "lack of college spirit" problem, and is the broad yet definite principle which should govern all policies or problems of the Union House Committee.

There is one other matter which has struck me as being a serious one during my service on the House Committee. At any meeting of the House Committee there is no member who is responsible for the financial accounts of the Union. We have no treasurer on our committee! It is my belief that no organization can conduct either personal or public affairs in a truly intelligent and economic manner without a treasurer or accountant who is directly responsible to such body. I therefore advocate a change in the constitution whereby the paid, full-time, secretary-treasurer of the Students' Council be also treasurer of the Union House Committee.

Thanking in advance my supporters, and pledging my best efforts to your service of elected, I am,

Yours faithfully,

BEVERLEY C. LEECH.

GYM. MEN IN COMPETITION FOR TROPHIES

Wickstead Competition at 5:30 Today

MONTREAL HIGH Judges are Dr. Lamb, Dr. Harvey and Mr. Powter

The Wickstead Competition is to take place this afternoon in the High School Gymnasium at 5:30. This competition is divided into three divisions: freshman, senior and a class for those students in the intervening years. It consists of gymnastic dancing, drill, standing hop, step and jump, fence vault, and simple gym work. Dr. Harvey's cup is awarded to the best first year man, while the Wickstead silver and bronze medals are given to the winners of the senior and intermediate squads respectively.

For those men who are trying out for places on the Intercollegiate Gym. team, advanced apparatus work may be substituted for the more simple work, but no more points are given for it, although the best five men are chosen as members of the McGill team which will go to Toronto.

This year there is only one freshman entered in his division. He is McKee of Science, who is also trying for a place on the team. Although this man will win Dr. Harvey's cup without any actual competition, nevertheless he deserves the trophy, as he has been performing consistently and is considered to be a gymnast of no mean prowess.

In the senior class there are three competitors, Amaron and McLean, of Arts '23, and Rolleston of Macdonald. None of these are attempting the harder apparatus stunts, but are concentrating on the work which is necessary and a close struggle is expected.

The intermediate division should prove the most interesting of the three. Of the five men entered, four are members of last year's Intercollegiate team, and a brand of advanced apparatus work is expected that will astonish those who have never seen these men perform. The competitors are McLetchie, P. Rolleston, F. Consiglio, J. R. Delahay and Bourne.

The judges for this competition are: Dr. A. S. Lamb, Dr. Harvey and Mr. C. B. Powter, of the Montreal High School. All these are well qualified for their position, and are known for their impartial and accurate awards.

The Gym. Club members have been working faithfully since the fall under the able coaching of Mr. Finlay, and the men who have been fortunate enough in getting this training are fast becoming finished gymnasts. Although this branch of sport does not appeal to great numbers of undergraduates, nevertheless those who have been turning out have found in Mr. Finlay an enthusiastic mentor.

There has been a mistaken conception about the campus that the Wickstead Competition is an Intercollegiate affair, but the only connection between the two is the fact that the best five men, judged from the place of advanced apparatus work, are qualified for places on the Intercollegiate team. The work of the Wickstead Competition is different from that of the Gym. team, which consists of work of a more intricate nature.

FIGHTERS TO HOLD ANNUAL ELECTIONS

Members of B.W. & F. Meet in Union Today

The attention of members of the Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing Club is drawn to the fact that a very important meeting will be held this afternoon at 5 p.m., in the Union lounge room.

The foremost item on the business programme will be the annual election of officers.

The Intercollegiate meet will be held at McGill next year, and every department of the Club must come in for careful attention.

Another reason that makes it necessary for members to turn out en masse is the fact that some important changes in the Constitution of the B., W. & F. Union, which were suggested at the meeting held at Queen's on February 24, will come up for discussion.

The fencers will discuss the question of making application to the Athletic Association for insignia in recognition of their representing the University, which heretofore has not been given them.

The executive wish to announce that the smoker which was to have been held at the Frontenac Breweries on Tuesday night has been postponed owing to its conflicting with the Union Smoker to be held on the same evening.

THEOLOGS IN FINAL BASKETBALL MATCH

Presbyterians and Congos Battle for Championship

When the Presbyterians and the Congregationalists met at 7 o'clock, in Molson's Hall, the championship of the Inter-Theological basketball series will be decided. Each team has to its credit four victories and one defeat, and each, having come thus far, is determined to come out on top. An exceptionally fine quality of basketball has been displayed all through the series, and to-night's game between the league leaders, with so much at stake, should be the best yet. There is an added interest also because of the fact that along with the title there goes the coveted cup symbolic of the championship. The P. C. has won the cup for two years in succession, and should it win to-night, will retain permanent possession. The Congos. will do their utmost to frustrate this attempt.

The Congregationalists will be represented by Moore, Bronson, Whitmore, Davies, Smith and Sanderson; while Amaron, Avison, Woodhouse, Lindsay, Stewart, Cousens and Innis will uphold the honour of the P. C.

CERCLE FRANCAIS BANQUET TOMORROW

Prof. Dalbis, of U. of M., is Speaker

The annual banquet of the Cercle Francais is being held at the McGill Union to-morrow evening at 6.30 p.m. sharp. All members of the Club are requested to be on time, as the meeting must be terminated before 8.30, because of the Smoker being held in the Lounge Room the same evening.

The speaker of the evening is Prof. Dalbis, of the Biological Department of the University of Montreal. Prof. Dalbis is a well known figure in his university, and those who attend the Cercle banquet can be assured of hearing a distinguished and learned speaker.

Several members of the staff will also be on hand, as guests of the society. All those who have not as yet purchased their "Cartes d'admission" are requested to get in touch with G. H. Goldsmith, of the Arts Faculty, as soon as possible.

CROSSING LECTURE PROMISED FOR P.C.

Next Thursday evening, in the Presbyterian College, Rev. Richard Roberts, D.D., minister of the American Presbyterian Church, Montreal, will deliver a lecture on "Wm. Blake."

Dr. Roberts gave this lecture to the St. James Literary Club, and it met with great success. The night of the lecture, however, happened to be the same night as Sir Henry Newbolt spoke in the High School, so many McGill students and others interested were not able to hear Dr. Roberts. Dr. Roberts tried to have his lecture postponed on account of Sir Henry Newbolt speaking at the same time, but this was impossible, so now he has consented to repeat the lecture.

Dr. Roberts has made an extensive study of the life and style of Wm. Blake, and his lecture should be of special interest, and benefit to students of English, but will also be enjoyed by all students of McGill. Dr. Roberts has also some original plates engraved by Blake, which he will show in connection with his talk.

CANDIDATES TO TALK TO ARTS-COMM. MEN

All lectures in the Faculty of Arts will be suspended to-day at 12.40 p.m., by permission of Dean Laing, in order that the candidates in the coming elections may be given an opportunity to address the students of this faculty. The political meeting will be held at the above hour in Room 5 of the Arts Building, and it is expected that a good many of the contestants will address the Arts and Commerce men on this occasion. It has already been ascertained that those running for the offices of President of the Council and President of the Union House Committee will be on hand for certain, and it is also expected that the other candidates, if they see fit to do so, will present their views to the students of the faculty at this gathering.

CITY LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

wonderful game, and both the teams are to be congratulated on the clean cut playing that was displayed. The M.A.A. A. had by far the greater number of rooters, but the Red and White team were given the McGill yell on numerous occasions by their own backers. The end of the play left McGill with a total of fourteen points for a lead as the results of the two games.

At the start of the play Manson got the jump. The M.A.A.A. forwards cut in and took a long shot, which went wild. McGill caught the rebound and let loose a brilliant bit of combination work, but they too missed the ring. Mendelsohn had his first opportunity to score on a free try, and sent the ball through the ring. On the jump Manson sent the sphere to Crain, who worked down the floor, passed to Manson, who sent the ball to the unguarded Mendelsohn, and two points went in for McGill. M.A.A.A. came down the floor, but were fouled and failed to convert on the free throws. Mendelsohn, a moment later, sent another free shot into the net. Crain was playing a remarkable game and was not only blocking pass after pass, but was up the floor with the forward line and back again before the ball. M.A.A.A. got a single point on another free try. Crain fooled the troops and taking the ball from the grasp of the Red and Blue defence player curved a crafty shot into the ring. Manson scored a moment later, after scooping up a pass from Turpel and sending the ball into the net from half way down the floor. Beecher scored on the rebound. The M.A.A.A. team cut loose with some nice combination and scored. Turpel took the ball up the floor and sent a neat tally into the ring while heavily checked by the defence. Amaron was working at top form. Saunders cast a wicked shot in from the side of the floor. Mendelsohn sent a free try in. Ledaian was substituted at this point of the play for Atcheson. Crain, who had been kept busy at his own end of the floor, scored from under the basket. Mendelsohn sent a brace of free throws into the net. Period ended. McGill, 13; M.A.A.A., 9.

In the first stanza of the game the Peel Street team had the better of the play, but could not persuade the ball to go into the ring. Crain was undoubtedly the hardest worker for the college team and playing his last game for the Red and White he certainly showed fight and endurance that placed him far above the average defence man.

Second period opened with Little replacing Turpel. The M.A.A.A. started out at once, and despite their highly developed systematic method of play, they were unable to get the ball near the basket and were forced to resort to futile long shots. Ledaian scored, however, with a clean-cut shot from the side of the floor. Mendelsohn retaliated, when, on a pass from Little he sent a side shot whirling into the ring.

Ledaian was again at the end of the scoring bit of play, but Amaron swept down the floor and scored after he and Manson had tossed the ball back and forth to get in close. Mendelsohn scored another free try. Time out for M.A.A.A.

The total score of the two games played for the city championship now stood 43 to 56 for McGill.

The game again started and Beecher got a free try. Little gave the crowd a thrill, when, after handling the ball in a clever fashion to evade the defence, he sent a shot into the ring. Maudsley went on for Ledaian. Manson, although "knocked off his balance while falling to the floor, shot the ball over his head. It bounced on the ring and rolled into the basket. M.A.A.A. scored on a nice shot, following which they got a free try into the net. Mendelsohn sent a free try into the basket. Hilton went on the floor for Amaron. After a minute's play the big defence player blocked a pass, and with Manson and Crain went down the floor. Crain scored. Paterson replaced Maudsley. Mendelsohn got another free try. Paterson was the scoring end of some Blue and Red team work. Manson was the next to score. He swung under the basket and sent a nice shot into the ring. Philpott went into the game for Little. The ball went up and down the floor, but no scoring resulted. M.A.A.A. got two free tries into the net while Mendelsohn got one.

Game ended. McGill, 29; M.A.A.A., 23. Thus the Red and White team captured the city and district championship for 1923.

STATISTICS OF YEAR IN BASKETBALL

Little, Crain and Turpel Get 31 Baskets Each

TOTAL SCORE 643-544

Manson High Winner—Mendelsohn Leads from Floor

The winning of the city title on Saturday marked the close of the season for the Red and White basketball team. They have played through their part of the City League without defeat, and the conclusion of last night's game left them a clean slate in this branch of their activity. The record that the team has made this season is very good. They have won the Intercollegiate Championship as well as the city title, and have lost but six games. Four of these were dropped in the States during the first part of the season, while the other two were registered in the first two games of the Intercollegiate series. The team has won fourteen games. Among the victories outside the two leagues, are the defeat of the Trojan team which holds the city championship in St. John, N.B., and the defeat of the Crescent A.C. of Brooklyn, New York. The Red and White were defeated by the University of Vermont and the University of Philadelphia in the early part of the season on a tour of the States.

In the Intercollegiate League, McGill lost the first two games and then staged a comeback, creating a triple tie and won the play-off in Ottawa, thus getting the title. The score in this league between the teams is as follows:

McGill totalled 86 points in the three games played with Toronto, while the Blue and White scored 78, and in the three games with Queens, McGill scored '03, while Queens scored 88. At last year, although McGill won the championship, the other colleges scored more points than did the Red and White team.

In the twenty games that the team played this year, McGill scored a total of 643 points against the 544 that the opposition were able to place in the net. The last nine games have seen the Red and White in the winning column of the score book.

Much of the credit for the successful year goes to Coach Van Wagner, who has trained the team all season. Although the style of play used was modified after that which was developed last year, the team was able by practice and experience to learn many useful tricks of the game to which their attention was drawn.

Manager Eadie has all season been responsible for the games which the team has played. The two intercollegiate games which were played in Montreal this year were both excellent examples of what good management can do. Manager Eadie was also in charge of the play-off for the Intercollegiate title in Ottawa. This, too, was excellently run off and the recent letter in the "Daily" is sufficient evidence of this.

Led by Captain Manson, who also was in action in every game this year the squad developed a fighting spirit which carried them into the winning column on many occasions. Mendelsohn played in all but two games this season, and has developed the knack of shooting fouls which next year should be a big asset. Turpel and Little have alternated in every game. Both showed remarkable improvement as the season progressed, and will be back next year to form part of what is hoped to be another winning team. Errol Amaron, who started the year as a forward, has turned out to be a suitable partner for the veteran defence player Crain. Amaron and Crain together are in a large measure responsible for the victories of the team, for without their remarkable work on the defence and their ability to work up the floor and score, the team would have been severely handicapped.

Crain is the only man on the team who will not return next year, and his departure will weaken the aggregation considerably. All year he has been playing a steady game, while as president of the Basketball Club, he has done much to help the team along. Crain was responsible for the trip that the team had in the States, and managed them while away.

Philpott, Hilton and Blumenstein have played with the team all year. Although they have not been used much, they have, when in the games shown some effective work. All of these men will return next year, and there should be a hard battle for the one vacant place that will be left on the team.

The baskets scored and free throws scored by the individual are listed below:—
